- (A) Know yourself well and you won't be cheated by false flattery.
 - (B) Never put off until tomorrow what you can do today.
 - (C) Theft is such an evil that it won't do you any good.
 - (D) One's wit is more important than one's voice.

Questions 251-255

Betty may not be the best professional tennis player I have ever known, but in terms of sportsmanship, she is second to none. Betty takes the game seriously. She believes that it takes more than skill to win a game. Patience, courage, and perseverance are also important. "A lot of the time it is self-confidence that turns a tough game into a victory," answered Betty, when asked about the key to her success. "Many a time I felt the odds were against me. As the game went on, however, I seized every chance and fought back," Betty added. "I never underestimated my opponent, and I did my best. When I lost, I didn't feel humiliated or vexed. I congratulated my opponents with sincerity. After all, we had a great game," she added. With such strong self-confidence, Betty stands a good chance of winning any game she plays.
